Knights Record Winning Season

The usual summer practices were different for the Varsity gridders this season. Instead of the coaches leading the exercises the team was given the job of preparing themselves physically for the upcoming season. This was new for the Seniors who had become accustomed to the Marine style drills.

As the season started, the coaches began to pick Knights of the Week, one offensive and one defensive player. They also awarded special decals to the athletes with outstanding performance.

The Knights spent Friday evenings at Bonanza Sirloin Pit where they ate steak and began to get psyched up for the game.

Northern ripped off five straight victories before losing to Northeastern in Death Valley. This was a first for Northern in football.

During the course of the year, Head Coach Worthington stated, 'The team hasn't yet jelled to our expectations, but they're coming along." The Knights never got it all together except against Wilson Fike, which Northern downed in a thriller for the first time, 12-7.

The Baby Knights started practice with a bleak outlook on the season. With only a handful of participants from Nash Central out practicing, things were looking dismal for Coach Barnhill.

But as the start of the season neared, the squad began to mature in strength. The Knights got off to a good start reeling off three straight wins before falling to Kingston.

The offensive team was sporadic all year looking good at times and then faltering. The defense had a few lapses, but in the game against Wilson they played superb defensive ball. In the end they had held Wilson to a tie.

Good attitudes prevailed during the season as the JV's rounded out the year with a 5-3-1 record.

Cagers Shoot the Rock

The Knights basketball team rebounded this year from a dismal 2-20 record of a year ago to post a 13-11 overall record.

Northern reeled off three straight victories before falling to Goldsboro. After a few ups and downs, the team came back and won the Holiday Tournament. Northern downed arch-rival Rocky Mount. This was the first of four games between the teams in which the Gryphons were to add four losses to their record.

In conference action the Knights were 5-5. Northeastern was the only conference the Knights failed to beat.

The Knights placed two members on the All-Conference team with the selection of Jim Glover and Greg Bowens.

Little Knights Have Trouble

The 1974-75 edition of the Northern Nash Junior Varsity completed its season with a disappointing 7-13 record.

The Baby Knights also faired poorly in conference play acquiring a 3-7 mark.

The Knights showed their true ability putting together a string of three conference victories during mid-season. The loss of a key player hurt the team toward the season's end.

The squad changed during the year from a bunch of raw talent to a team worthy of a Knight uniform. The experience of having worked together as a unit will help each player on and off the court.

Front Row: R. Wells, W. Arrington, J. Leonard, J. Worthington, M. Leonard, E. Lawrence. Back Row: T. Bunn, M. Davis, R. Richardson, G. Pittman, B. Parker, D. Wells, W. Baines.

Lady Cagers "Burn the Nets"

The Lady Knights started the year with only a handful of experienced personnel. With lots of enthusiasm and hustle the girls were able to overcome some of the obstacles in their path to end with a winning season.

In the early part of the season the Lady Knights had trouble after defeating Oak City in their first outing. The Lady Knights then defeated Rocky Mount and Bertie on their fourth and fifth games.

The rest of the season was kind of like a see saw with the Lady Cagers coming up with an overall record of nine wins and seven losses.

Front Row: D. Richardson, S. Johnson, M. White, H. Baker, P. Cannady, L. Macklin, T. Wells Back Row: E. Rackley, J. Arrington, K. Weaver, J. Sharpe, O. Harrison, B. Luper

LOWER LEFT: Crowds didn't bother Julianne Arrington as she drives right through three defenders. LOWER RIGHT: Enthusiasm was never lacking on this year's team as the girls were always hustling and cheering themselves on.

Northern Grapplers Set School Record

The Northern Nash grapplers posted their best record in the school's history this season with a 12-2 record.

The two losses came at the hands of Greenville Rose. The Knights led both of the matches, but faltering in the end fell to the Rampants 30-24 and 30-22.

The team lacked a really great wrestler, so it took a combined team effort to win consistently.

The Knights entered 4-A Baseball competition pessimistic about the outcome of the season. Under the leadership of new Head Coach Bob Norman, the Knights were hoping for a .500 season. But with only two Seniors to pace the squad, experience at crucial positions was lacking.

The Knights did come up with a shut out of rival Southern Nash and a win over Greenville Rose. The Knights ended their season with a win over Bertie. This brought the season to a close with a 3-16 record.

Cinderman Post Winning Season

The track and field team made a strong comeback after a slow start early in the season. A combined effort by the team helped make the season successful.

The Knights finished first seven times out of seventeen outings. Most of the outings were held with three to six teams competing. The big wins came over Rocky Mount and Wilson, who were unable to conquer the Knights in a dual meet.

(Track Team) Front Row: B. Phillips, D. Johnson, T. Cooper, J. Coley, D. Dozier, M. Smith, S. Phillips, R. Jones, C. Johnson Second Row: A. Crudup, R. Whitehead, M. Debro, K. Moore, J. Freer, T. Harris, T. Eley, R. Harris, R. Miller Third Row: R. Crawford, S. Brake, L. Dungan, D. Battle, O. Marshman, G. Bowens, M. Rose, M. Hagans, M. Crudup

Cross Country Finishes With a .500 Mark

The Cross Country team finished a .500 season. This was just the second year for Cross Country at Northern.

In a conference with Wilson, Rocky Mount, and Greenville, Northern Nash placed second behind Wilson and ahead of Greenville and Rocky Mount.

Coaches John High and Bobby Dunn had to recruit strenuously to get enough men out for the team just to run in a meet. Only five members are needed to run in a meet. "The people at Northern do not realize that Cross Country is a team sport just like the other sports at Northern." Coach High commented.

First Row: E. Jones, S. Griffen, C. Richardson
Second Row: R. Harris, C. Cooper, J. Harris, J. Jones

Monogram Club Sells Toboggans

To be a member of the Monogram Club, one had to letter in a varsity sport. Members of the club were expected to show support for Northern. They also strove to have sportsmanship. During the year, club members sold trashcans and toboggans. This money supported athletics at Northern.

One member of the Knights' coaching staff is retiring at the end of the 74-75 school year. After 37 years of active coaching, Mr. O.D. Moore is leaving the faculty at Northern.

Coach Moore began his career at the Nash County Training Center which later became Nash Central High School. Being head coach of three sports required lots of stamina. Coach Moore proved capable in his position as his teams won three state football and four state basketball championships. He also bagged a state track crown.

Coach Moore was an active teacher and was twice voted "Teacher of the Year."

Northern wishes him well and will surely miss this remarkable man.

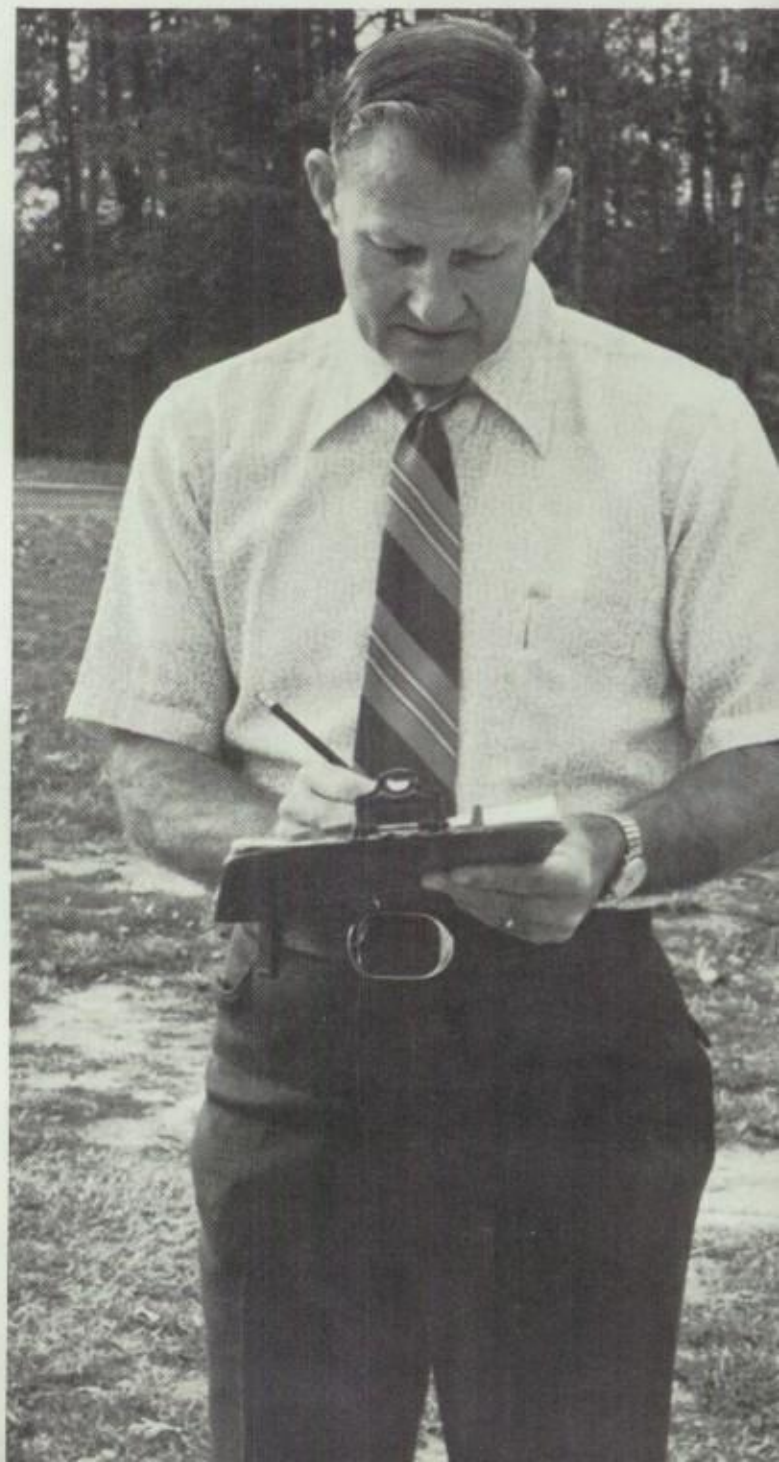
Good Educational Program Essential to Develop and Broaden Students' Ability

The Northern Nash educational program was designed to give the student an opportunity to develop his inherent ability to the fullest. With approximately 1200 students, an adequate educational program was essential to "meet needs, develop talents, and broaden interests." Northern offered courses in all areas so that each student could study what he desired.

At Northern Nash, Principal Donald L. Johnson assumed the responsiblity of professional leadership to the school. Mr. Johnson administered and supervised the school under the direction of the Nash County Superintendent.

Assistant Principals John Grady and Willie Wooley were in charge of busing, disciplinary action, books, lunch tickets, SGA, and other school activities.



UPPER: Mr. Johnson records an upcoming program on his school calendar. LOWER RIGHT: Checking buses as they arrive at school each morning is one of the various jobs of Assistant Principal Mr. Grady. LOWER LEFT: Mr. Wooley observes parking lot to make sure students are not staying in their cars. Anyone caught gets suspended from driving for one week.

Office Personnel Aid Administration and Students Every Day

Secretaries Irma Lynn and Kay Grady assisted the administration and faculty by keeping accurate records. Student complaints, phone calls, check-ins, and check-outs were all part of their busy day.

Dean of Men, Bill Ennis and Dean of Women, Jesse Dixon had the responsibility of settling student problems concerning school relations.

Their Work Begins Long Before School Opens

Work at Northern Nash began long before students reported to school.

Janitors, along with their regular maintenance of the building and grounds, spent hours cleaning water from the floors after the rain.

Lunchroom workers faced a difficult task preparing nutritous meals with the rising cost of food.

Guidance Helps to Plan Future

Guidance found appointments a more efficient way of meeting with the many students who sought their aid.

With schedule changes, PSAT's, and SAT's early in the year the guidance councelor's job was just beginning.

Class rank was made available to students. Seniors received help with college applications.

Problems and plans for the future were dealt with everyday by students and the guidance councelors.

Unique Events Top Class Discussions

Students were better able to understand the present by relating to the past through mini-courses offered by the Social Studies Department. These mini-courses gave students a better knowledge of heritage, responsibilities of American citizenship and economic principles.

Unique events that marked today's political scene such as a non-elected President and Vice President, fuel shortages, and inflation brought about heated and interesting discussions in the Social Studies Classes.

LOWER LEFT: "Oops, I forgot my line, was it woof . . . woof or meow", exclaims William.

Science Projects Aid in Arousing Interest

To meet the growing demands of this Atomic Age, Northern offered courses in biology, chemistry, and physics. All students were required to pass a year of biology to graduate. Seniors wishing to study biology in more detail took Advanced Biology.

After passing Biology their sophomore year, students took chemistry. Seniors were also offered physics to further their scientific knowledge.

Lab work, lectures, and projects aided in arousing the students' interest.

Math Challenges Students

The Mathematics Department provided students with a pre-professional and vocational knowledge of mathematical problems.

College Algebra, Trigonometry, and Advanced Math were college preparatory courses. To aid students in the vocational field, serveral courses were offered including General Math, Consumer Math, and Computer Programming offered a challenge in the world of facts, figures, and formulas.

Mathematics is used in every aspect of day-to-day living.

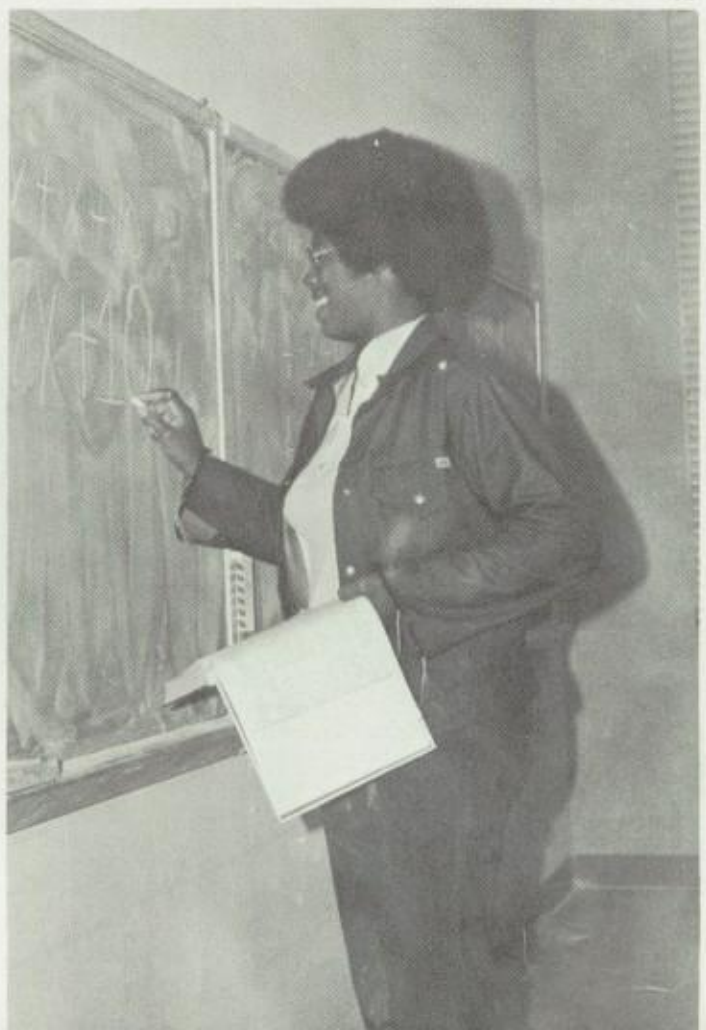
LOWER LEFT: Miss Janet Russell discusses the importance of using negative and positive signs. LOWER RIGHT: Algebra student Juliette works a problem at the board for extra points.



English

Program Is Set up for Gifted Students

Teaching communicative skills, reading, writing, speaking, and listening was the main concern of the English Department.

Non-graded phase elective English program offered 38 courses per semester. Courses were phased, not students.

Northern had a new program set up for gifted and talented students. This program was for students with exceptional ability in English. Students were admitted by test scores, and through recommendation.

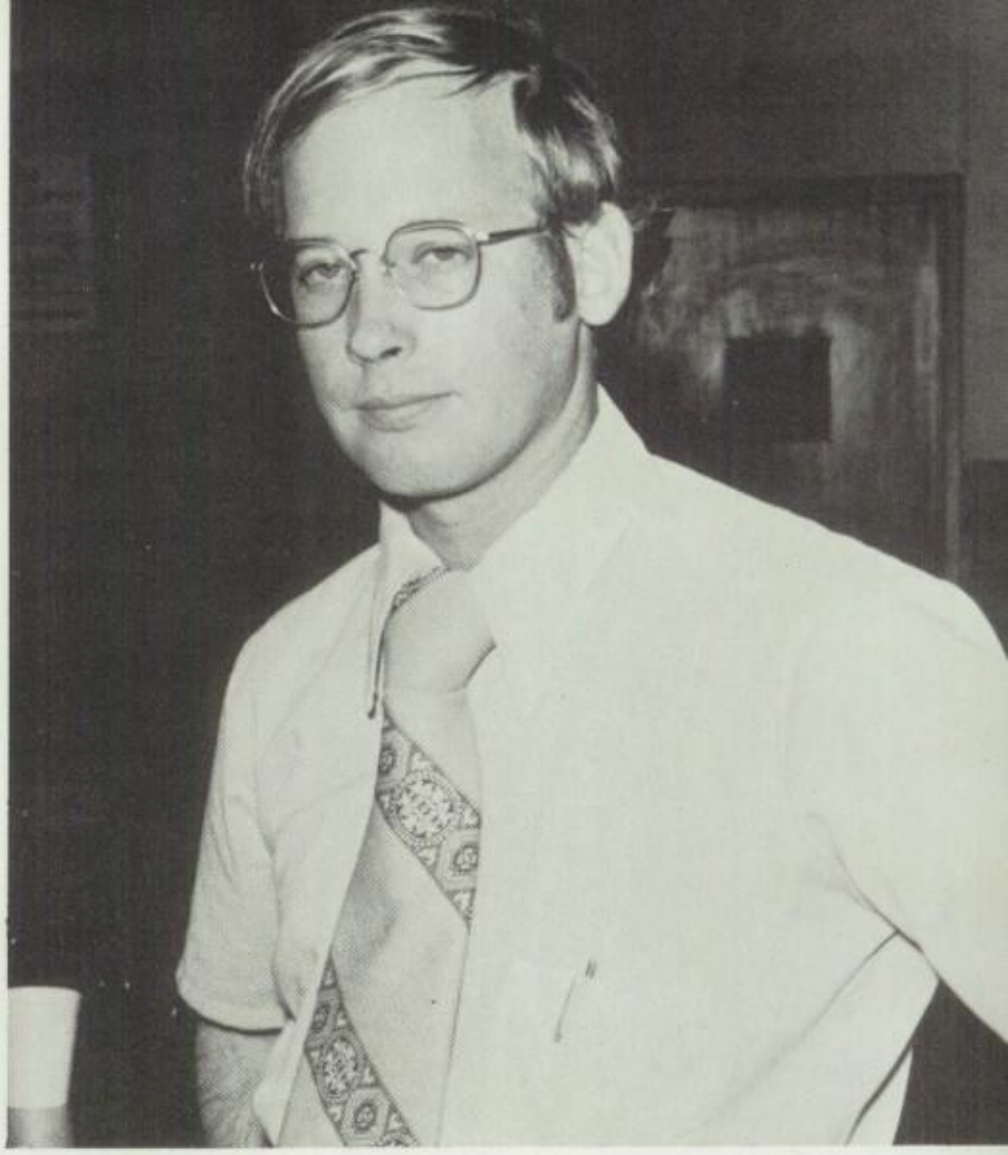
ALTOS HORNOS
DE MEXICO, S.A.

Sounds of Music Make the World Go Round

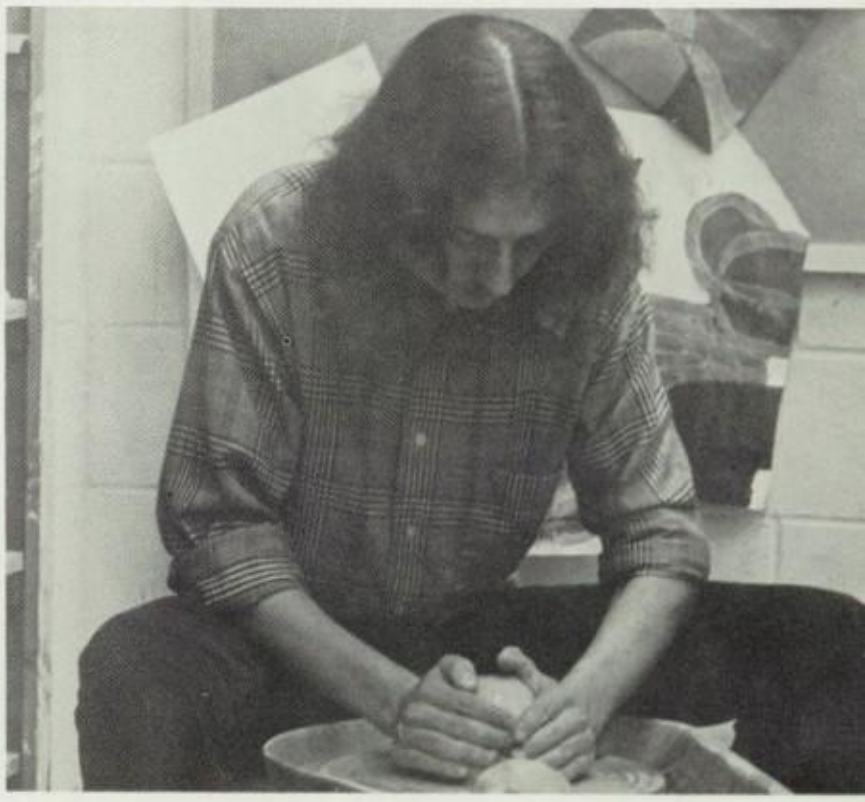
There's more to music than singing a song, or blowing a horn. Perfection is the goal of each music student. To a chorus student, it's singing that perfect song, and to a band student, it's playing that perfect note. All the elements of music were explored in the two classes. The elements were reading, writing, playing and understanding. The students explored all dimensions of music learning to appreciate music of yesterday and today.



UPPER RIGHT: "What's the meaning of this?" asks Mr. Jim Bouldin, music teacher. MIDDLE LEFT: "I hope nobody heard that high C" softly sings Mrs. Paulette Ezzell. MIDDLE RIGHT: "And a toot toot here and a toot toot there." toots William Joyner, band student. RIGHT: "When she said one, two, three, and sing, nobody sang," mumbles Marlon West during Chorus practice.

Art Does It's Own Thing

Most classrooms are all neat, tidy, and quiet, but if one walked by the Art Department, one might feel the shift of time as the changing of worlds takes place. The sweet melodies of radio music stimulated the souls and minds as the instructor guided the young budding artists in the right direction.



UPPER LEFT: "How's your masterpiece coming along?" asks Mr. High, observing Joyce Strickland. UPPER RIGHT: "What would you say if I told you I didn't believe in Santa Claus?" asks Gracie as Phyllis works on their Christmas art project. MIDDLE LEFT: "Diane, I'm surprised at you for not believing in peanut butter!" exclaims Mrs. High. UPPER: "And women complain about dish pan hands, "says Dickie Everette during Art class. LOWER LEFT: "I'm such an industrious student," sighs Reggie as he finishes his art poster.

H.O. Students Visit Areas of Medicine

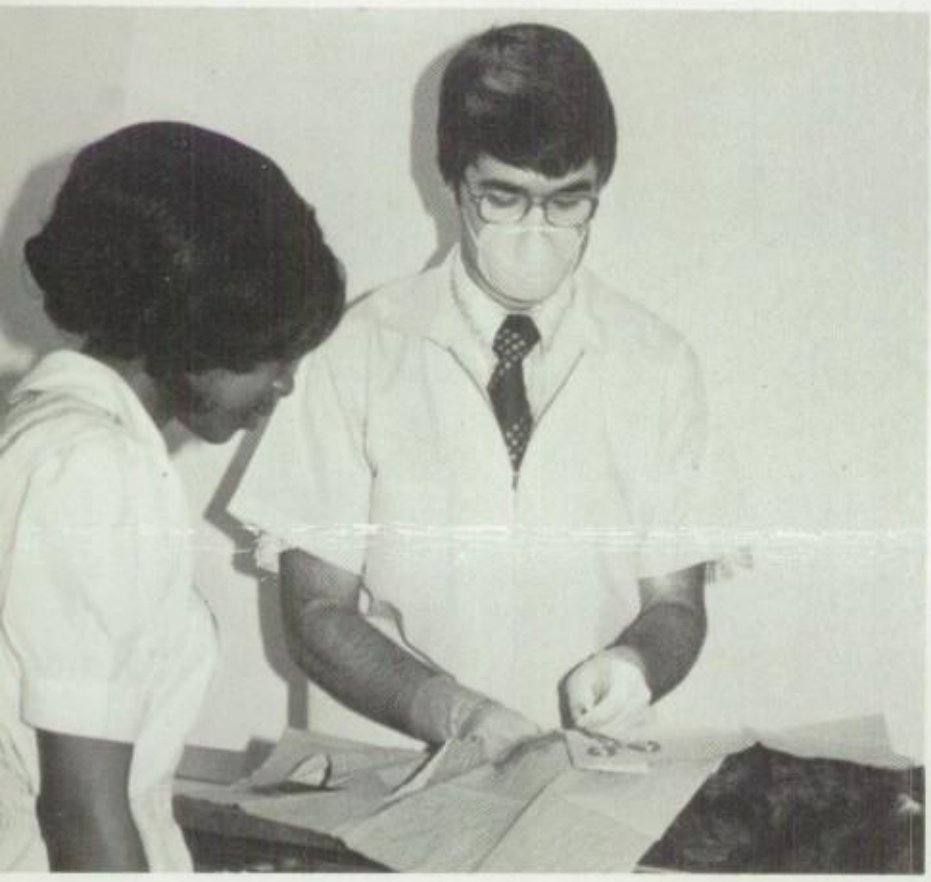
Health Occupations is geared not only to nursing, but to other medical professions. The H.O. II classes had an opportunity to observe many of Rocky Mount's different medical labs.

H.O. II students visiting the nursing home learned that more than the basic skills of bathing the patient, making his bed, and grooming him were needed. Students found the elderly were human, too, and needed someone to talk with. H.O. II students discovered that caring for a patient was rewarding.

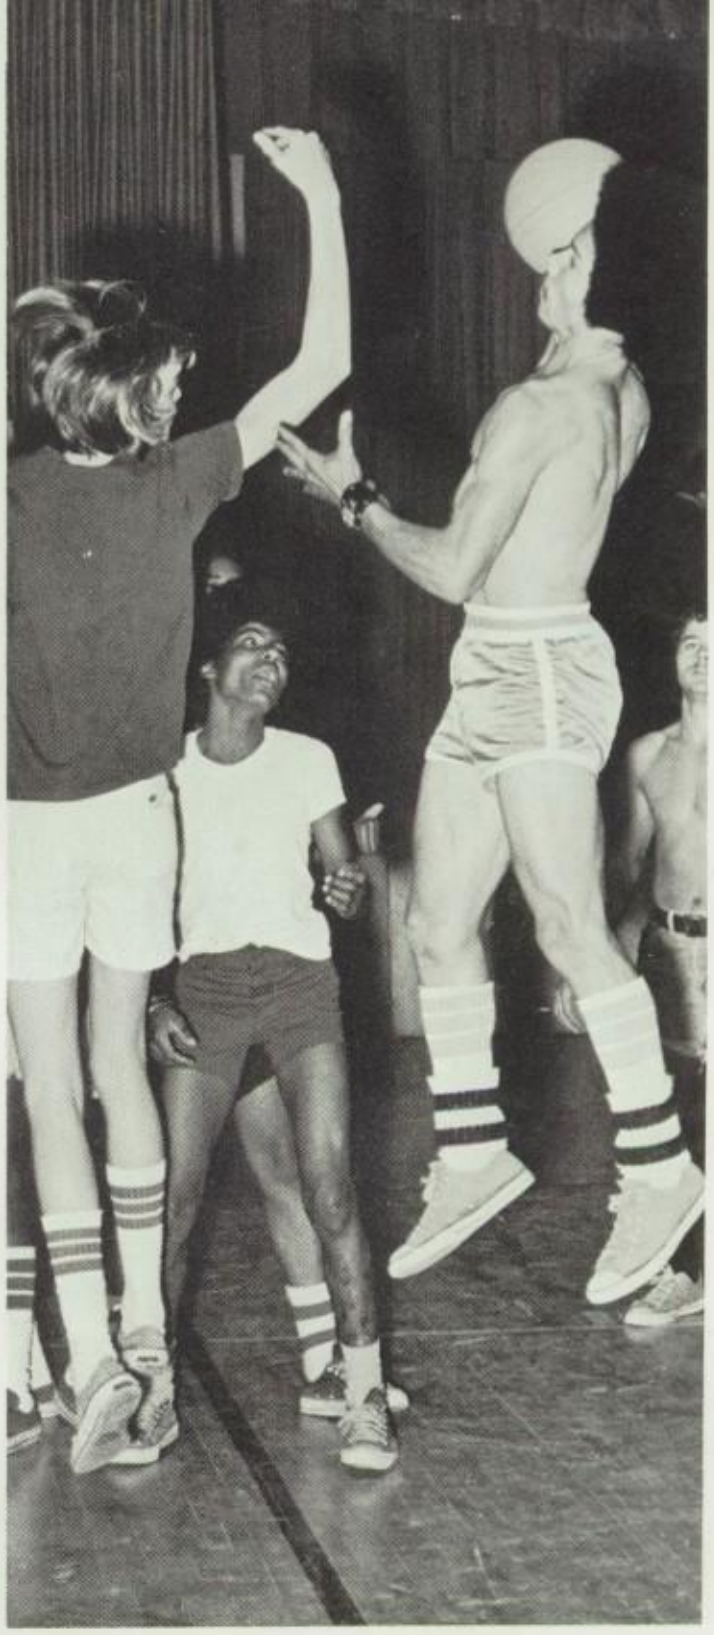
"Just a little longer, please" was often heard after Mrs. Nobles drove her bus into the Veterinary Hospital parking lot. H.O. II students' work with animals was a different type of experience. One student even fainted observing an operation.

The Rocky Mount Day Care Center for the Mentally Retarded and Handicapped children was a nice place to visit. Students learned that those who needed help were taken care of with love and affection.

How to fill cavities, replace caps, were some of the basic Dental work observed by students.



UPPER RIGHT: "I know there must be a heart beat somewhere," exclaims Shirley as she practices using the stethoscope. UPPER LEFT: Linda observes Dr. Staton in the process of sterlizing a dog. MIDDLE RIGHT: "This is your most vital organ, Cheryl. It's the necessity for all life," instructs Mrs. Winnie Brown. LOWER RIGHT: Before giving an aspirin, Mrs. Peggy Nobles asks, "Does it make you break out, swell up, or make you sick?"



Physical Education Builds Bodies

Developing healthy bodies was an essential factor in building strong minds. Too, there were many different types of equipment to help enable the students to sharpen their physical abilities.

By participating both indoors and out, students learned many sports. Some of the usual sports were speedball, crab-soccer, volleyball, tumbling and everyone's favorite, basketball.

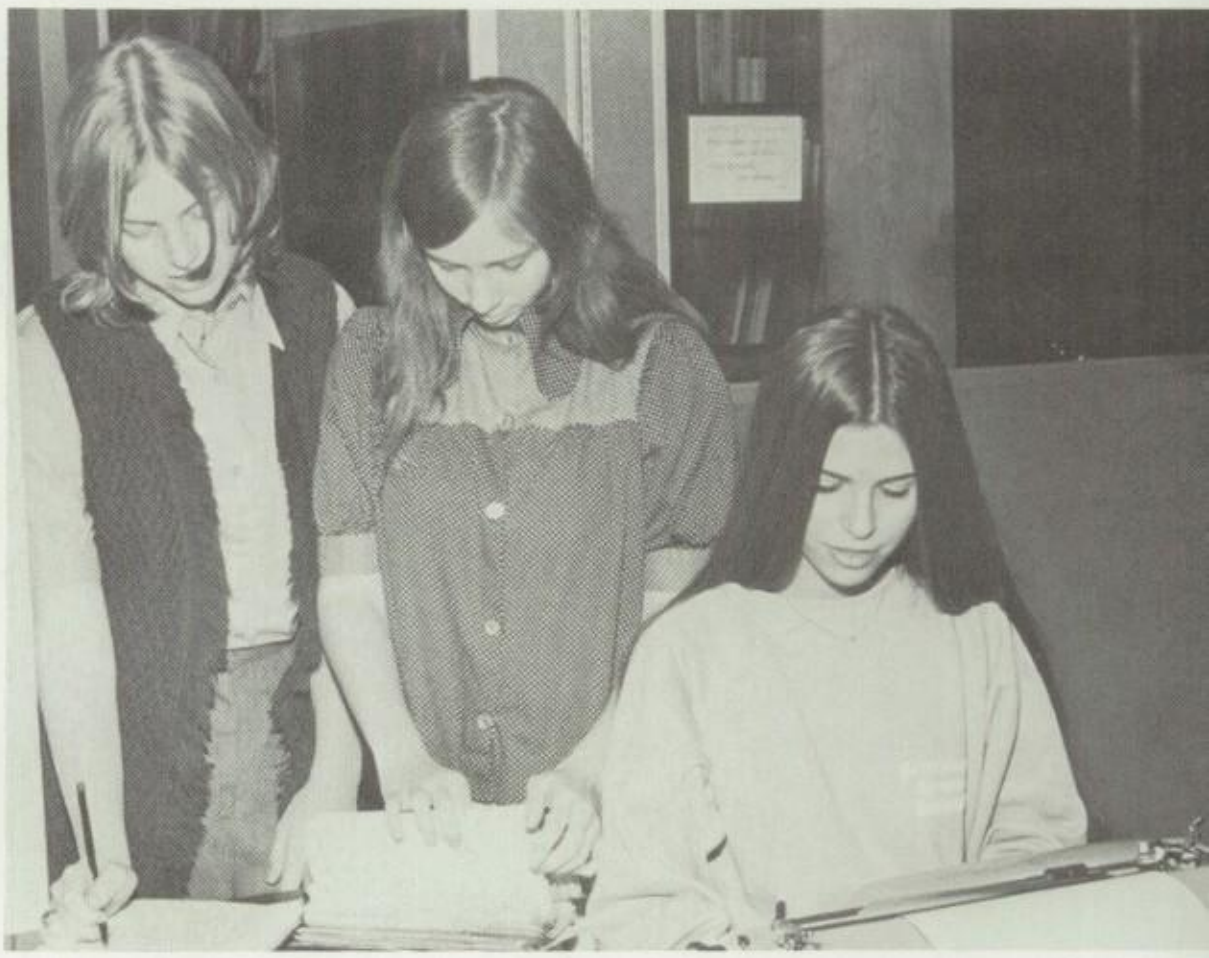
Carbon Paper, Stencils All in a Day's Work

Business classes gave students an opportunity to escape the monotony of ordinary classroom through simulated business offices.

The department designed a brochure describing various business courses and also toured Hardbarger Business College.



UPPER LEFT: Who said, "You could write faster in shorthand?" wonders Betty Jean. UPPER RIGHT: Miss Shirley Rodgers look for typographical errors. MIDDLE: "I wish everyone would come to school. I get tired of typing the absentee list every morning," complains Laura to Janice and Faye. LOWER LEFT: Mrs. Una Thompson looks at the commulative folders of her students. LOWER RIGHT: Miss Ruth Jones prepares her next Shorthand quiz.

Home Economics . . . No Longer a Woman's World

With the long list of discriminations, from color to size and sex, Home Economics changed. No longer were there listings of Home Economics classes as "all girls." There were classes for boys as well as girls. With the addition of classes such as "Bachelor Living", boys could be seen learning the art of cooking, sewing and budget management.

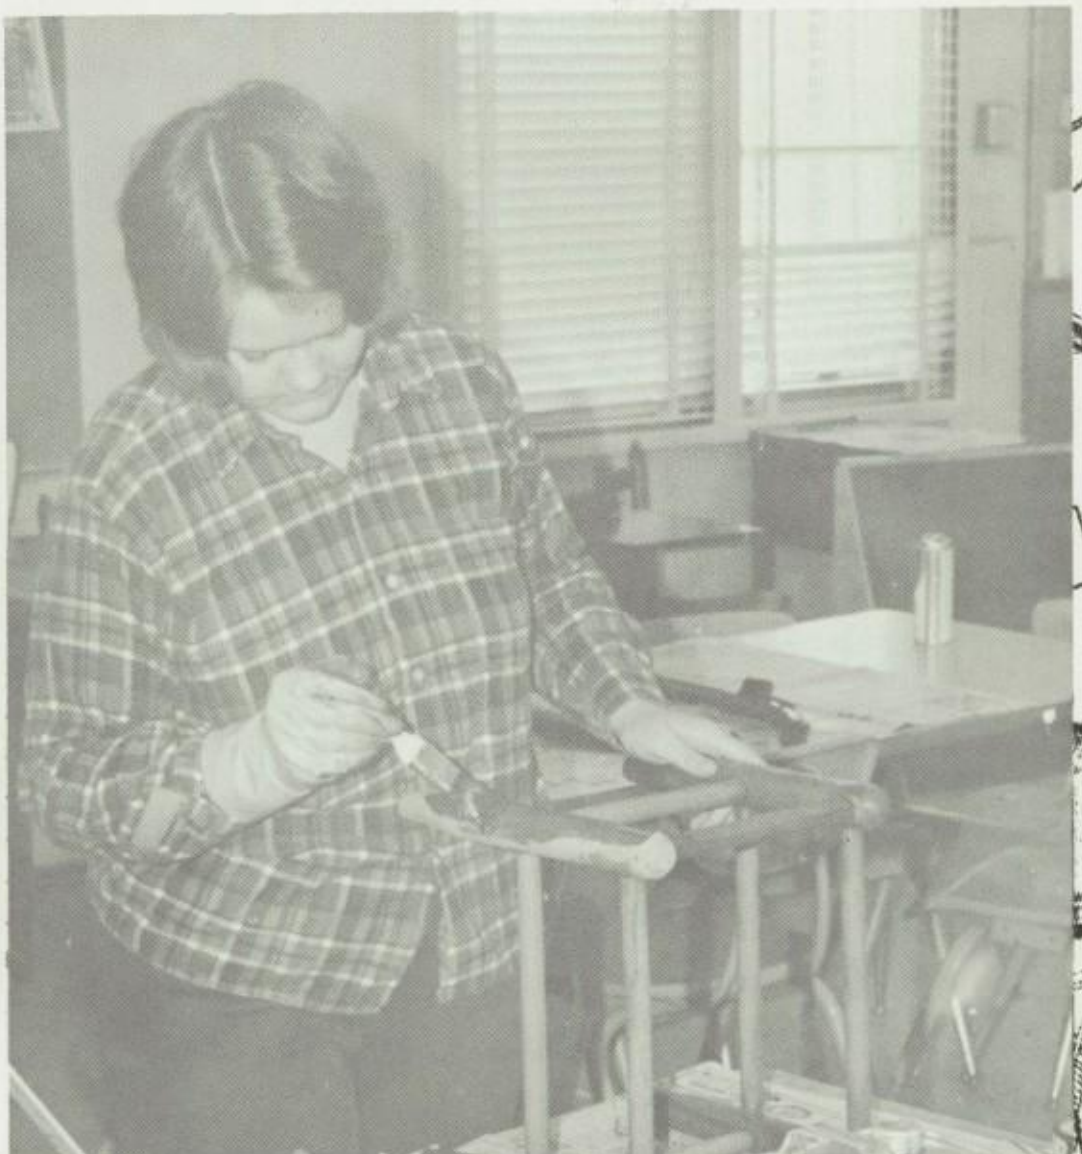
LEARNING

UPPER: "I know this is off limits during lunch, but I'm a teacher," exclaims Mrs. Evelyn Glover. MIDDLE: "Can I play?" asks Denise Pierce, a member of the Family Living class. LOWER: "If Dad could only see me now," mumbles Kathy Matthews.

COOK



UPPER LEFT: Mr. Charles Howell, electronics instructor ponders over test papers. UPPER RIGHT: "I wonder what will happen if I move this. " says Mike to Curtis. MIDDLE: "For a shocking experience turn the other button" exclaims Randy to Marvin. LOWER: "I can see clearly now" mumbles Willie from behind the video camera to Dale.

Electronics, a Shock

Electronics class should be another science class. With all the talk about electrical current, electron flow and direct current, it could easily be.

At the first of the year, students got their "shocks" when they experimented with electrical wiring. Radios were made by students as they improved their knowledge of electronic equipment. The electronics class helped out the basketball team by taking a video tape of the home games.

Agriculture Classes Improve Environment

Many people not associated with farming consider an agricultural occupation to be an easy job. These views come from people who have never lived on a farm.

Northern's students in agriculture classes worked first hand with the raising of plants. This was accomplished by the use of the green house.

Students were informed of the proper techniques of planting different crops and the soils best suited for growing the crops.

Forestry class made visits to forest establishments in the area to obtain better knowledge in their study.

UPPER LEFT: "She loves me, she loves me not" could be what Leroy and Allan are thinking. What they're really doing is snipping the blooms off a coleus plant. MIDDLE: Mr. Alston checks the accuracy of a scale model being built by students. LOWER LEFT: "This is the new tractor they said we were getting" exclaims Ronnie as Mike and Allan look to see if any parts are workable. LOWER RIGHT: Mr. Buss, agriculture instructor, says "All of us farmers don't wear coveralls."

Tailoring Classes Make Uniforms

Tailoring I prepared students' as all-round tailors and dress makers. By the end of the course they were able to make a garment from start fo finish by hand or machine.

Tailoring II provided instructions and practice in the more advanced skills needed in custom tailoring.

This year's tailoring classes project was to make uniforms for the band. They made approximately 35 pants and vests for the girls. The boys already had their uniforms from previous years.

Students Master Culinary Skills

Commercial Cooking I gave the students fundamental experiences necessary to serve, operate, and prepare food in quantity for a variety of basic establishments in the food service industry.

Commercial Cooking II gave instructions for advanced cooking with special emphasis placed on cost control and special cookery. The students were also introduced to baking decorations and were taught how to plan his work as well as supervise the work of others.

Carpentry, a Valuable Trade

Carpentry classes were taught the basic tecnhiques of carpentry and how to use the tools of carpentry. It was taught in the classrooms and the shop, but students also had the advantage of working on a full size house.

Carpentry holds an important part in everyone's life. Homes, schools, churches and even places to work wouldn't be possible without it.

A Brick at a Time

Students soon learned that bricklaying is not just piling one brick on top of another, but is is an art where every brick has to be exactly level and straight. A few mislaid bricks could mean a ruined wall in a home or a chimney that will soon fall over.

Bricklaying students practicing at Maude B. Hubbard used their skills to help construct a full size home.

Have Pencil Will Draw

We've all heard of the house that Jack built. Well, how about the house that drafting planned.

"Building more than a house, but an education" was this year's theme as the drafting department drew up blueprints of a house for the vocational classes. This was not the only activity of the classes as machines, tools, and moving parts were designed and drawn by the students.

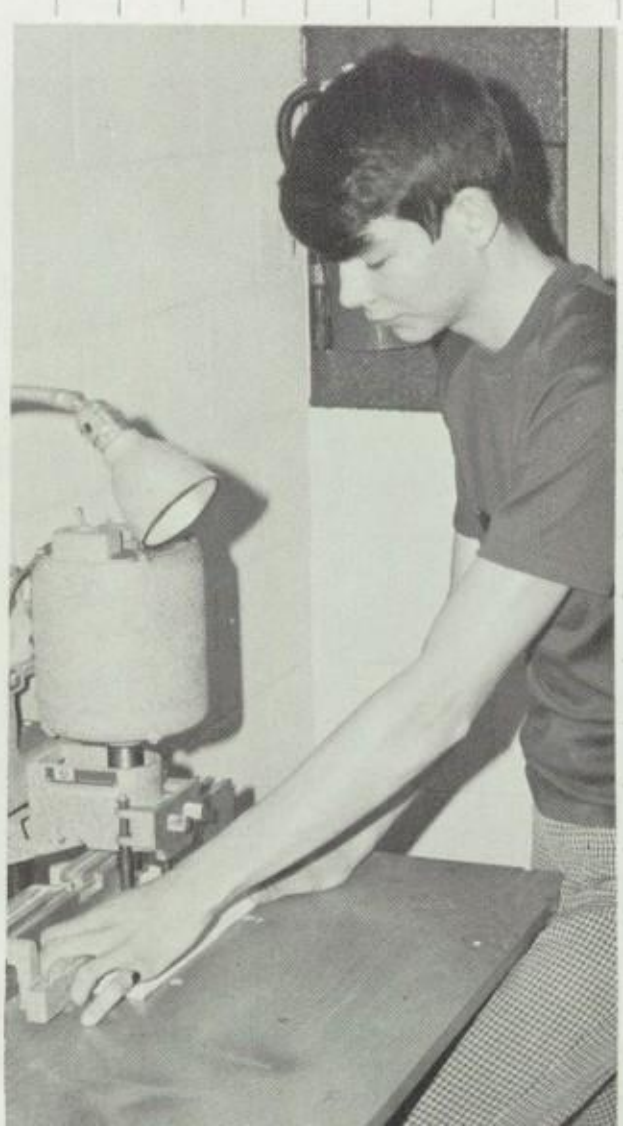
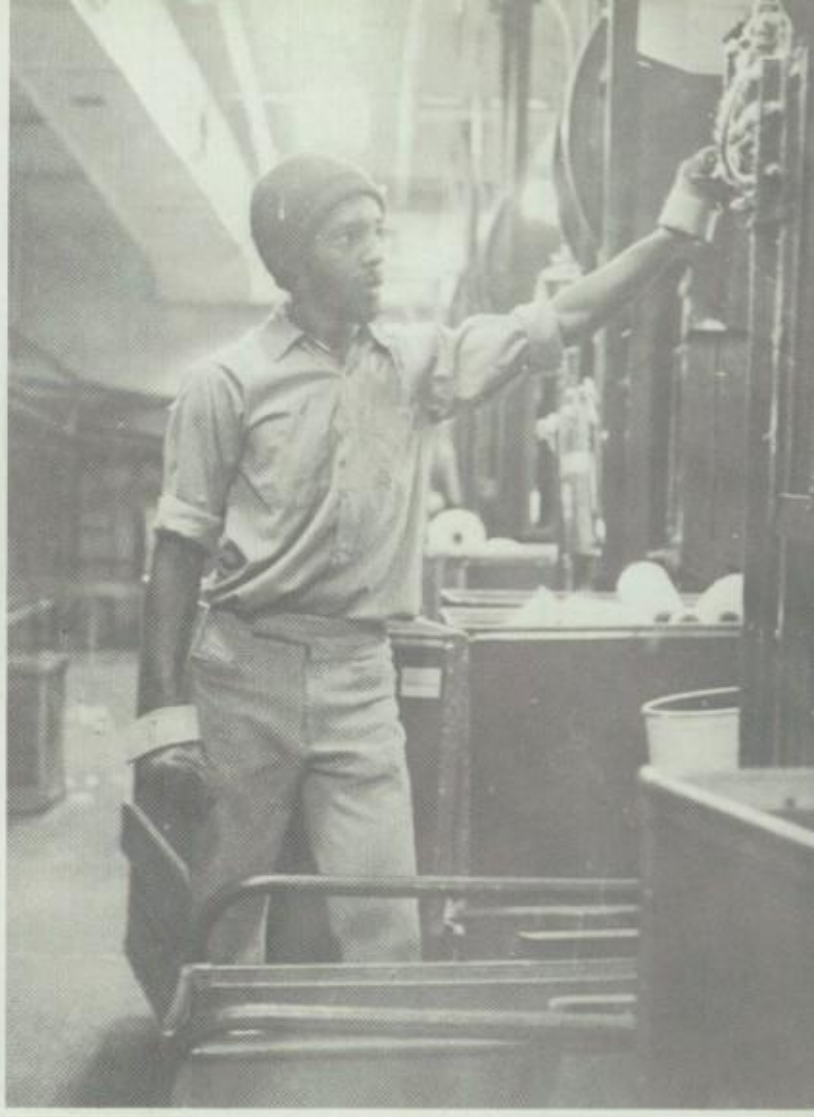


Graphics Print Paper Media

Graphic students were taught to design printed matter, compose and set type, make negatives and plates, and produce finished printing. By printing corridor passes, report cards, football programs, and posters, the students were able to practice what they had learned.

Printing the student directory the KNIGHT LIFE and the KNILIART challenged them to a more difficult type of printing.

They also served the community by designing letter heads, tickets, and bulletins.



ICT and DE Offer Job Experience

The Industrial Cooperative Training Program strived to hold energetic young people in school by offering them an opportunity to learn and earn while completing their high school education.

ICT through vocational education encouraged students to attend school and graduate so that they were better prepared for the world of work.

Northern's Distributive Education provided students an opportunity to obtain skills in all phases of retailing. Once the students learned the various phases of business, they were given a chance to use their knowledge and skill through an on the job training program.

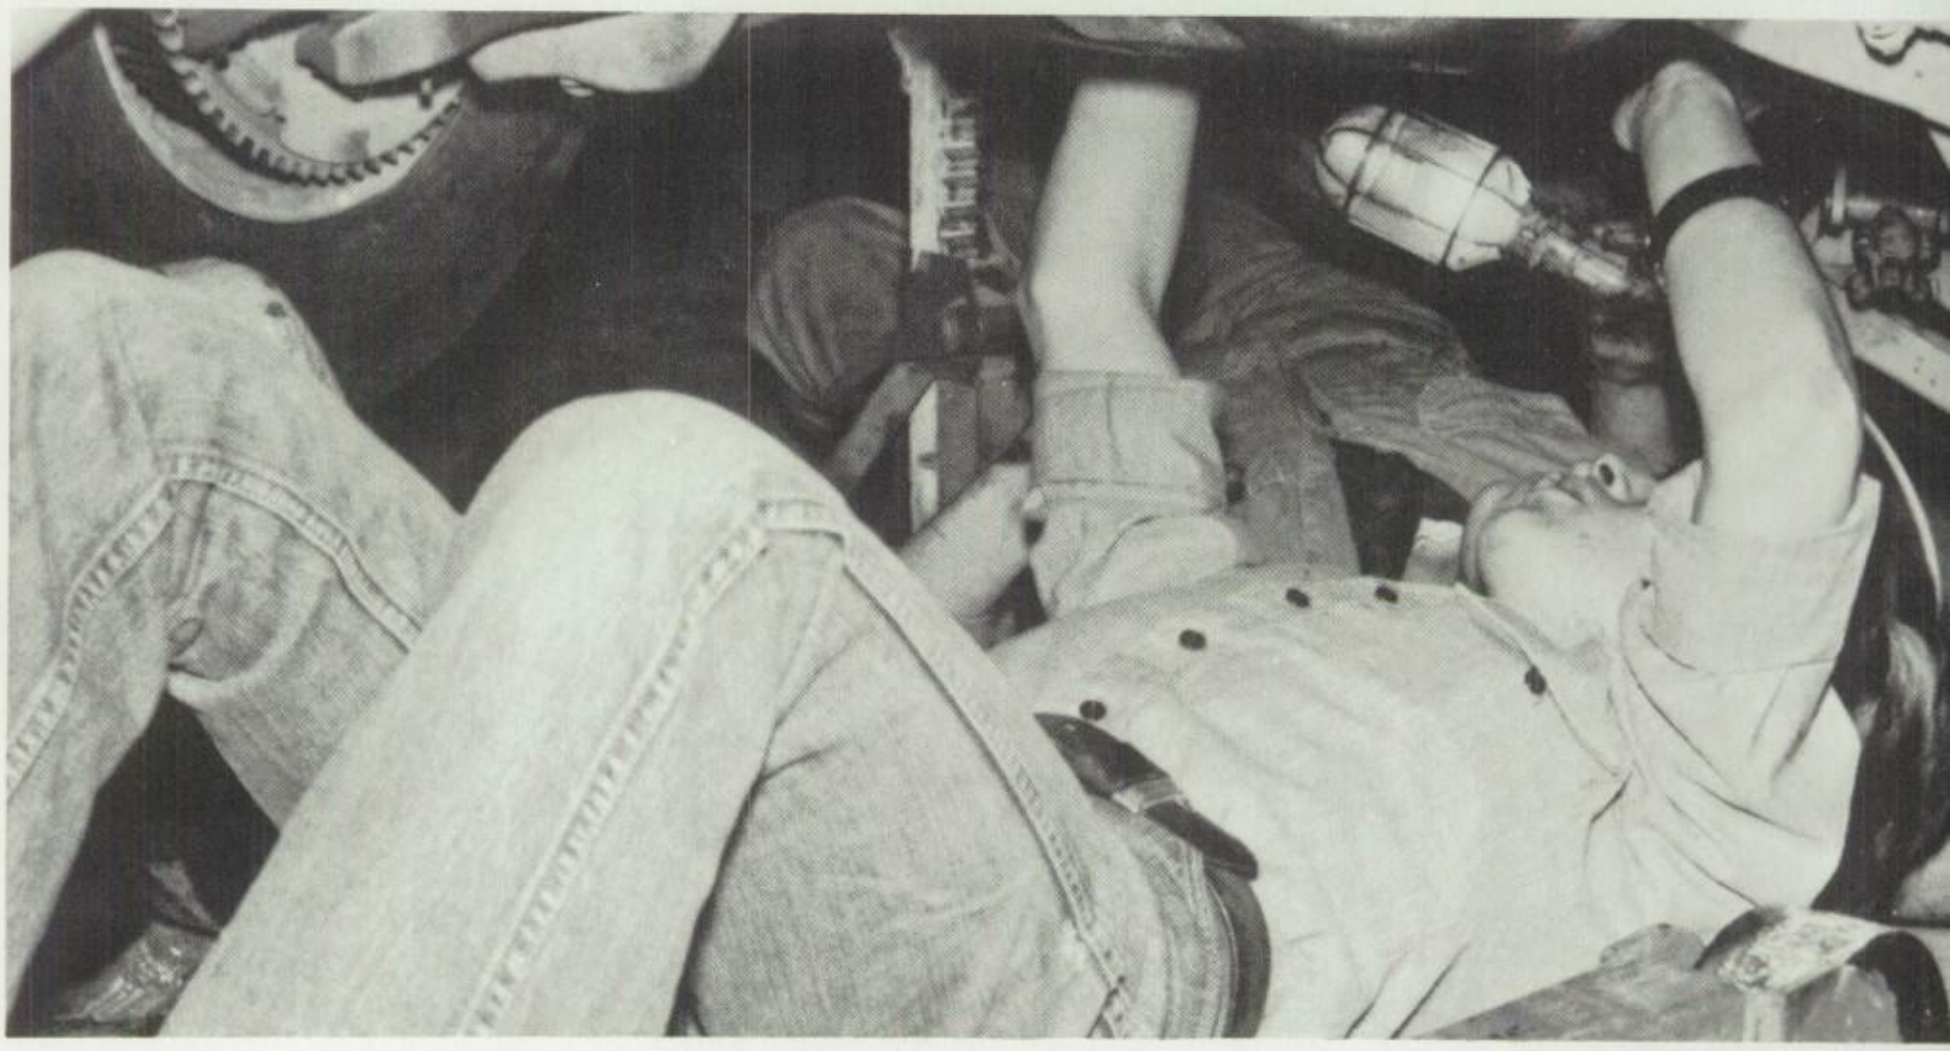
Training Develops Vocational Skills

Auto Mechanics class prepared the student for a vocation after graduation. Class time was spent in the shop working on live projects. All types of repair work were covered.

Students learned technical skills necessary for occupational competency in Air Conditioning and Refrigeration.

Aviation Science prepared students to take the FAA private pilot written examination. Students learned about aircraft and basic fundamentals of flight. The classes went on flying field trips.

Students prepared for their first day on the highway while in Driver's Education. The course familiarized the students with the rules of the road and the techniques of driving.



UPPER: Johnny Edwards supervises Patrick and Randy during a repair job. MIDDLE: Chris and Mark check out motor mounts during Auto Mechanics II class. LOWER: "Hold it down tight," exclaims Chris to Zebedee and Butch as he begins to cut.

Individualism in Study Dominates Library Skills

Hardback books soon became paperback as the library felt the effects of the leaky roof.

With umbrellas and galoshes the library skills course survived the drip, drip, drip.

Individualism and independent study was the dominant idea this year. Students proved their knowledge of the library by the speed and accuracy used in checking in and out books, magazines, microfilms, and other library materials.

SGA Demonstrates Ability to Serve

Thirty students were elected to the Student Government Association. This group made the wishes of the students known and strived to make their wishes materialize.

Homecoming was one of the activities sponsored by the SGA. During the week before the game, each day was designated to a specific type of dress. There was Rag Day, Dress-up Day, Color Day, and Nostalgia Day.

The band "Lady Luck" played for the Christmas dance. Unfortunately, the SGA did not sell enough tickets to term it a success.

A bullentin board was placed at the front of the school and a committee from the SGA was chosen to post announcements.

The SGA tried to make it possible for students to sit in assembly where they pleased after a controversy over behavior during assemblies.

FTA Proves Worthy

The Future Teachers of America was a busy, active club offering service to the school and faculty during the year. In recognition of the faculty, the club sponsored a tea. The members proved very helpful in guiding parents to their students' classes during parents night. The responsibility of changing the bullentin board in the hall monthly was assumed by the FTA Club.

Business Aspects Discussed in FBLA

The Future Business Leaders of America carried out projects during the year based on the theme "Founded on Pride, Strengthened on Service." Along with their annual task of publishing the student directory, the club distributed toys, food, and clothing to needy families during christmas.

To create enthusiasm among the club members various guest speakers were invited to discuss topics such as the aspects of business and the proper dress codes.

DECA Students Caring, Sharing

"Students caring, students sharing," was the motto of the Distributive Education Clubs of America.

Club members shared experiences of on-the-job training during club meetings. Various projects, activities, and forthcoming conferences were also discussed. This year the Northern Nash chapter of DECA hosted numerous other surrounding schools in the District Leadership Conference.

Drafting Inspires Future Designers

Do students ever think of some day settling down and building a house of their own? If so, have they wondered who will design the house? The designer may be one of the members of the Drafting Club.

The Drafting Club was composed of students considering a career in drafting. Guest speakers and club projects stimulated interest in the technical drawing field.

George assists Ray in a club project of drawing a seal to represent the drafting department.

Working Students Value Education

The Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) was an organization with the students future in mind. The club was composed of vocational students.

Meetings informed members of many job opportunities and stressed the educational requirements for each occupation.

Health Careers Club Promotes Interest in Future Occupations

The Health Careers Club was opened to anyone who was interested in the health field. Lectures, guest speakers, field trips, and films gave students a broader concept of opportunities and responsibilities required in the health and medical professions. Hospitals and nursing homes in the area benefited from various service projects in which club members participated.

Students Work and Learn Skills in Media Center

Library Club members stressed discipline as their motto this year. The librarians and students strove to keep a neat and orderly media center for students to use in research, study, and reading pleasure.

The club took on many projects. This year proved to offer bigger and better opportunities of knowledge pertaining to new methods of library skills. Club members had their hands full with back-up work, reading shelves, and keeping the professional library neat, not to mention the everyday task of checking in and out books, periodicals, filmstrips, and microfilm.

Le Cercle Français, El Club de Español

The French Club reorganized this year proclaiming "Je veux enseigner le monde a chanter" ("I'd like to teach the world to sing,") as their club song. Students earned money by selling KNIGHT banners and Senior buttons.

French Club members attended a Foreign Language Festival at Campbell College. A gift was presented to the school, and also clothing and food to a needy family.

Dr. Nicole Aronson, a Frenchman from ECU, was a guest speaker at one of the monthly meetings.

Spanish Club members attended a Pre-Columbian Art Exhibit at Duke University, and afterwards enjoyed a Spanish meal.

Costumes were made and skits were planned for La Fete-Fiesta.

A selected member from both the French and Spanish Clubs was given a scholarship for outstanding work.

Bus Drivers Exert Required Patience

With one eye open, bus drivers started their routes around sunrise. Including Northern, these dedicated students, tolerated rowdy kids yelling, throwing paper, and fighting, drove buses for the elementary, middle, and junior high schools. Just like any other occupation, they had their good and bad days. Of approximately 150 drivers, only around twenty had minor accidents.

"I thought I started a little too early." The bus is an important means of transporation to the majority of the student body.

When people think of farmers, they usually imagine someone getting up by a rooster call, slopping the hogs, plowing the fields, and milking cows. Maybe this is true, but many members of the Future Farmers of America did things quite differently.

These students were enrolled in courses to learn techniques of farming. Other than the usual requirements, they did things to improve the school.

The future farmers kicked off their activities with a chicken barbecue in November. Placques were presented to Mr. Dan Willey, a former teacher, Mr. Donald Johnson, and Mrs. Nan Strickland, lunchroom supervisor.

They participated in contests such as Parliamentary Procedure Public Speaking, Quartet Singing, and their FFA Sweetheart, Miss Harriet Jones, competed for the state title.

At Christmas, they cut down trees and transplanted them in buckets for the Christmas Dance sponsored by the Student Government Association.

Chess Requires Concentration

The Chess Club gathered to enjoy a game of chess and meet new friends. Money from dues was used to help a needy family at Christmas.

Clubs Enjoy Outdoor Activities

Members of the Wildlife and Fishing Clubs participated in activities which showed a common interest in outdoor recreation.

Basic equipment and skills that were necessary to become a better fisherman were discussed by the Fishing Club. Field trips were taken to nearby lakes and ponds.

The Wildlife Club had demonstrations on ammunition reloading and skeet shooting. Field trips were taken to rifle ranges.

Members were also given an opportunity to view a collection of rare antique guns.

Scholarships, Tap-ins for NHS

The National Honor Society held the light for the students of Northern. Students having the qualifications of character, service, leadership and scholarship were inducted into the club during the course of the year.

Some of the members were recipients of the Morehead Scholarship, the DAR Award and two of its members were nominated for the NHS scholarship. These two competed with the students of other schools.

Some of the activities included in the year were attending the annual Honor Society convention and passing the light on to students at the tap-ins.

Bible Club Shares Love for God

Daily devotionals began the day for members of the Bible Club. Meeting in the library, they read the word of God and sang of their love for Him. They shared their thoughts with each other.

On club day, they made plans for creating a special witnessing program and for buying Bibles for the library, so students can read them.

Concerts and Parades Present Music, the Universal Language

Regional contests were major goals of the band and performing chorus as they sought for first class ratings against other schools.

Mixed chorus had their work cut out for them as they learned the fundamentals of music. A new addition to the Music department was the Eight O'Clockers, a special girls ensemble. Many concerts were performed by the groups.

The band and color guard provided half-time activities for all the home football games, as well as pep rallies and parades.

Practice makes perfect for the Eight O'Clockers.

Anxious Sophomores Make New Adjustments

The Sophomore Class of '75 entered Northern confused, insecure, and frightened.

After being NUMBER ONE at Nash Central for a year, many sophomores were lost when they were no longer on top. Not knowing where their classes were or what to do at the first pep rally didn't stop them from proving themselves to the upper classmen.

They stood up for their fellow classmates and gave the teams the support they needed. Electing class officers and Homecoming Court Representatives made the 'sophs' feel more a part of Northern.

Through participating in school activities, such as sports, clubs, and pep rallies, the Sophomore Class of '75 established its place in the student body.

A Bright and Better Tomorrow

The Junior Class of '75 returned to Northern with a sense of accomplishment. No longer were they "greenhorns"; "sophs." Secure in their new role as upperclassmen, they greeted the sophomores with the same rough treatment they received the year before.

Excitement filled the halls as juniors ordered coveted class rings. After months of waiting, patience began to wear thin. After is was announced that rings would be here "soon," excitement once again filled the air. Finally, full-pledge juniors!

Finally able to participate in Varsity sports, juniors proved to be a vital part of the athletic program. Determined, spirited juniors won the spirit stick at every pep rally.

Those with at least a 3.2 grade point average were inducted into the National Honor Society in November. Keeping grades up kept many students busy even after the tap-in.

This was a long and difficult year for juniors. With thoughts of "only one more year," they ended the year with an even greater sense of accomplishment. They showed great pride as the Class of '76.

Awaited Dreams Become Reality

SENIORS - the dream of eleven years is finally a reality. We have mingled in the halls together, laughed together, cried together, and had classes together before, but this year has had a significant difference for each of us.

Maybe it is because we realize that soon our hour on this stage will be no more. Knowing this has made us more aware of what we are today and what we want to be tomorrow.

After graduation, the world will be our stage where we will play bigger and better parts. Because of the parts we played here, together we will be able to make our place in that wonderful new stage and make it a better place for our having lived.

ACT I: Existing

The Class of '75 walked into Northern ready to take the teasing that is always dished out to incoming 'sophs.' Despite the hassling, supporting the Junior Varsity, participating in the mock election, receiving drivers license, and rejoicing over the release of P. O. W.'s made the year worthwhile.

Some suffered through Geometry, Biology, and the PSAT, but a week out for snow revived the zest of 'soph' determination.

Act II: Junior . .

As Juniors the biggest thrills were receiving classrings and planning the Junior Senior Prom.

After making the decision of what color to order, it seemed like years before the rings came back, finally full-pledged Juniors!

Much planning went into the all important prom. On May 10, Tarrytown Mall was decorated with a rainbow of colors as couples danced to the sounds of "Soul Unlimited."

As Junior Marshalls, Linda, Shirley, and Carol hand out programs at commencement exercises.

"I don't know if I can take another year or not," ponders Lea Ann and Mark.

Act III: Leaders

The Class of '75 returned after a refreshing summer vacation to take over the responsibilities of leading the underclassmen.

At first, they could not believe it was time to be called "Seniors." Stepping up to take the lead role was an easy task. They stood in the Senior lunch line and marched in and out of assemblies proudly.

They faced the year with enthusiasm and determination.

Scene I: Studies

Taking courses such as Physics, College Algebra, Advanced Biology, and Flics did not stop them from getting involved and making their last year the best one ever.

Attending College Day at the National Guard Armory, ordering invitations, hunting for the seal, boycotting Hardees, participating in the Homecoming activities, and taking the SAT filled the days of autumn.

Scene II: Unite

The days of winter flew by. Break-ins and vandalism played an important part of the year. Following the football game with Rocky Mount, the buildings were defaced with paint. Concerned Seniors fought to get even with the vandalists and eventually the paint was removed.

United Seniors cheered faithfully during pep rallies and games and stood up enthusiastically for the Knights.

Scene III: Hope

As the year progressed, Seniors prepared to take their last mid-term exams. Sighs of relief were heard as the final exam was taken.

Seniors spent many a day in the guidance office as they dreamed of and planned for their future. Scholarship nominees filled out forms and went for interviews all the while hoping for the best.

Epilogue: Future

The dream has come to an end. Our hour on this stage is no more. This is where we step off this stage onto that new excitingly different stage.

Even though our dream has ended, our lives have only just begun.

We are better for playing the role of Seniors of '75 and Northern is better for our having been here.

We can look back and remember "The Way We Were."

We're called "Peoples Bank" for good reason.

When Peoples Bank started out in 1931, we had one primary objective... to serve the financial needs of people. Our aims haven't changed. We still help people from all walks of life and all income brackets with our full banking services. And we try to help in such a way that people appreciate us and will continue to be our friends and customers. So please accept this invitation to join the Peoples family. After all, we're called "Peoples Bank" for good reason.

Joy,
Even though I don't know you good I still think you a good person.
Good Luck!
Robbin Perry

Joy,
It has been a pleasure knowing you this year. Even though we didn't get around much together I can still say you will always be a friend. I don't really have much to say (can you believe that) so I'll close this by saying, I now officiate you a proud Soul Sister, congratulation.
From your friend

Dear Joy
It sure has been a great year
and I'm glad to have had you be so much a part of it. Don't ever forget young Frankenstein or the first nite I spent the night with you! I'm glad you're moving near me - we'll get a swimmer ahead of us. Wanna take horseback riding lessons?!
Luv ya,
Tucker

Joy,
It's been nice
knowing you. Have a sweet and carefree summer
and remember

Joy!
I love ya! Remember
all the good times in American History with Mr. Dixon, Sam Jr.
Remember all the good times in the cooking area and the good times in the cafeteria as neighbors! Always keep in touch, and remember the good, fantastic, stupendous CLASS OF '76!!!
Love Ya,

CLASS OF '76

Joy,
I've really enjoyed knowing you. You are a good friend. I hope you enjoy your next 2 long years (or, 360 days) at Nash. Stay nice and I'll see you around.
Greg Voutsas

Joy,
I'm trying my best to stop crying, but knowing that I won't see you much any more is just too much. Maybe we can go to Greenville again soon, but this time we'll party.

Joy,
been great knowing you this year and I hope that you stay as sweet you are! KEEP COOL!
Love,
Venita

Joy,
It's been a pleasure knowing such a sweet person. I hate to leave you for the summer but it's one of these things ok! I'll see you next year. I'll miss you + I love you so. Good luck to you + yours.
Take care + best of luck to you,
Teri Lee
I'll see ya!!
